

Claim

- A vehicle security system comprising of:
 - a) an onboard control module and
 - b) a watch transmitting device means for interacting with said onboard control module
 - c) said watch is the means for controlling all functions of the said security system and said watch,whereby said watch transmitting device allows for constant monitoring.